

The Earth

Chandler York, 2000

William Ellery Channing

1. I rest for - e - ver on my way, — rolling a - round the hap - py sun; —

2. Ye are so cheer - ful in your minds, — Content to smile, con - tent to share, —

1. I rest for - e - ver on my way, — rolling a - round the hap - py sun; —

2. Ye are so cheer - ful in your minds, — Content to smile, con - tent to share, —

My children love the sun - ny day, — but noon and night to — me are one.

My be - ing in your si - lence finds — The e - cho of my sphe - ral air.

My children love the sun - ny day, — but noon and night, to — me are one.

My be - ing in your si - lence finds — The e - cho of my sphe - ral air.

My heart has pul - ses

My heart has pul - ses like their own —

My heart has pul - ses like their own; I am their mo - ther and my

My heart has pul - ses like their own — I am their mo - ther and my veins like their own; I am their mother and my veins, Though built of the en-

I am their mother and my veins, Though built of the en-veins, Though built of the en-

Though built of the enduring stone, Thrill as do theirs with God - like pains.

during stone, Thrill as do theirs with God - like pains.

during stone, Thrill as do theirs with God - like pains.

during stone, Thrill as do theirs with God - like pains.